

Privacy Statement

The Federation of Synagogues is a registered charity that provides services to members of its Constituent Synagogues and to those members of its Affiliated Synagogues who have joined its Burial Society.

The Federation collects and holds personal data on its members with the purpose of carrying out the objectives specified in its constitution.

Personal data that is stored may be used for purposes including the provision of pastoral care, administration of membership records, promotion of the interests of the charity, management of staff and volunteers and maintenance of its own accounts and records. The Federation's data processing also includes the use of CCTV systems in some of its buildings, for the prevention of crime.

The Federation is committed to ensuring information collected and used is appropriate for the purpose of providing member services and does not constitute an invasion of your privacy.

In order to fulfil those services that the Federation provides, it may from time to time pass on personal data to its service providers, who will be contractually obliged to store your details securely. Once their services are no longer required, they will dispose of the details in line with Federation procedures.

The Federation will not pass on your personal data to external third parties without first obtaining your consent, unless it is legally required to do so.

The Federation processes (collects, stores and uses) the information provided by its members in a manner compatible with data protection legislation. It endeavours to keep member data accurate and up to date and for no longer than necessary for business requirements.

The data provided by members is stored securely and subject to rigorous measures and procedures that minimise the risk of unauthorised access or disclosure.

The Federation takes its members' privacy seriously and will only use your personal information to administer your account and to provide the products and services that form part of your membership.

However, from time to time we would like to contact you with details of events or newsletter updates, both from Head Office and your local synagogue. If you consent to us contacting you for these purposes please tick below to indicate which options you would like to receive.
